

This is what our customers have to say about Kerio WinRoute Firewall:

High Tech Computers, Inc., LA, USA

"Kerio WinRoute Firewall has proven to be a very powerful software based firewall, allowing a wide variety of configurations to accommodate the needs and network layouts of our customers. The additional anti-virus and web content filtering components are an excellent way to increase employee productivity, eliminate almost all spyware hassles, and is well worth the initial expense. Kerio WinRoute Firewall and Kerio support are first class!"

Peter H. Peeters, Sr. Technician and Consultant

Viking Electronics, WI, USA

"We chose Kerio WinRoute Firewall with McAfee Antivirus and the Internet Security Systems filter service after experiencing nothing less than pure bliss with Kerio MailServer. We were able to replace two servers, including a Novell BorderManager server which never lived up to its expectations, with a single inexpensive machine running both the firewall and the mail server! No need for an expensive server platform or multi-license server OS!"

"The Kerio products far outperformed its predecessors! Installation, implementation and administration were a breeze, and the new system was up in minutes... Bravo to Kerio!"

Tom Springer, Systems Administrator

Magna Systems and Engineering, Australia

"We have multiple services running on the same machine: web, mail, FTP, plus the firewall. The Kerio WinRoute Firewall configuration was simple with the traffic rules wizard, and was extremely simple to setup and install. The traffic filtering policies, although at first glance complicated, are extremely powerful and configurable; I feel most other firewall products lack this flexibility (I was a former user of WinProxy)."

Matthew Kerr, Computer Systems Support Specialist

Tablelands Community Employment and Training Inc., Australia

"Kerio WinRoute Firewall has performed above and beyond any expectations we initially held. It is a cost effective secure platform with easy to use setup and highly configurable options."

Baird McNutt, Northern Ireland

"Kerio WinRoute Firewall is an excellent product. The 30 day trial allowed me to evaluate the software and ensure that it performed as I wanted. Upgrading to the full version could not have been easier. Hassle free, quick and simple to install and purchase."

Geoff McFadden, IT Manager

Groenhorst College, the Netherlands

"Many students use the Internet on a daily basis. The connection is now being secured and it has become much faster when using Kerio's firewall / proxy products. The software is reliable and easy to use. Besides that, its functionality is excellent and constantly improving with the continuous updates, which consequently can be installed without any problems. Also the support is excellent. The Dutch distributor BIT, responds accurately and rapidly and also the delivery of licenses is done speedily and rapidly."

Aart van Beek, Beleidsmedewerker ICT

Keepnet Ltd, United Kingdom

"For one of our networks we recently made a move from WinRoute Pro to Kerio WinRoute Firewall. Immediately we saw that the management of rules, NATs and mappings were far simpler, which allowed us to respond promptly to a need to change configuration and still clearly see that the network remained properly secured, yet fully functional."

We have dealt with and implemented Checkpoint, WatchGuard Firebox and various big name proprietary boxes, and Kerio has continued to demonstrate that for a small to medium sized company, reliable, effective and manageable security products need not cost the earth. As to the general Kerio experience, throughout it was understated and professional, doing exactly what it said. We only needed to use technical support once during the upgrade process. The response was suitably prompt, direct and answered the question we asked – Just what support ought to be. We'll be back;-)"

Department of Informatics, University of Sussex, United Kingdom

"Your 30 day trial allowed us to find out that Kerio WinRoute Firewall had all the features we needed to secure our Internet facing Windows servers. The software allowed us to easily define address groups and services and use these definitions to create traffic rules. This means that only the packets we want now reach our machines. This was simple due to WinRoute's well-designed graphical user interface. We purchased the product without any hassle and at a reasonable price from your reseller, Grey Matter Ltd."
